

MISREPRESENTATION.

It seems to be one of the most odious fruits ever imposed upon the editor of the Telegraph, to cast about for redresses of truth in regard to the relations existing between the Mormons and Gentiles of Utah.

The tabernacle and bower of restraint have long been famous for the obscene vulgarity characterizing the discourses delivered therefrom, and the T. Editor seems desirous of proving himself a worthy son of his liege lords by apeing their style in his contumacious sheet. Lack- ing the moral courage to make an open assault on the gentlemen, who are the subjects of his master's, and therefore of his displeasure, wanting the tact and knowledge to inaugurate a discussion in the meritorious columns of the paper, he dogmatically asserts the superiority of, and the demands of that so ignorantly contended. He throws out his several indignities against some nameless parties, and to bring upon them the indignities heaped upon the loyal and honorable of Utah, makes out without producing one single proof of a general charge of their being "corrupt wretches," "sopers," "traitors of the Mormons," "miserables," "vampires," "open and avowed enemies," determined to bring about trouble between the Mormons and the General Government in the hopes of filling their pockets—even if it should cost the lives of every woman and child in the Territory.

We have no intention of noticing this Bilingue from more than simply re-publishing it for the consideration of that very honorable and now extensive class of our citizens passing under the general appellation of Gentiles—Jews, of course, included. We simply give a blank denial to the statements made so far as they refer to or affect the Gentiles of this city, as a body. Among them, as among the Mormons and every other class, there doubtless are disreputable men, and we would be foremost in the ranks to advocate the punishment of wrong, wherever or by whomsoever committed. Parties on both sides have doubtless used many harsh invectives, have been extremely ultra and unguarded in their expressions, and may occasionally have astrologed their remarks to be tainted with blood-thirstiness; but that the Gentiles have designed, wished, or sought to bring about a collision between the Government and "this people" for gain is a libel so foul as to be worthy only its parasitical author and his unconscionable colleagues.

It is impossible however to judge from any other than the standpoint occupied, and with the overwhelming force of testimony in possession of the seditious editor of the Telegraph against his own surreptitious clique, and the difficulty he experiences of seeing clearly through the green spectacles of morbid jealousy that obstructs his mental vision, we can hardly expect him to draw any well-defined lines of demarcation; and are therefore not surprised that he suspects the Gentiles are as bitter against him and his party, as the conscience-stricken and law-breaking perfomers he represents are against law-abiding and honorable Gentiles who are too noble to be bought, too brave to be intimidated and too dignified to notice the querulousness and abuse of every small-minded traitor.

HOX. Mr. Culver, M. C., from Pennsylvania, is bankrupt to a very large amount. So harassing have his creditors become, that he has voluntarily taken up his quarters in a common jail. His wife is with him.

MINES.—Our Placer Mines, about 14 miles up City Creek, are attracting considerable attention. Quite a number have gone out there, and some who have come in give a highly favorable report, while others don't have much confidence in them. But the thing will be fully tested within a few days.
